

Fictional family sample pack

Thanksgiving game pack

Your family. Your stories. Game night.

Four games, one table: Family Trivia, Who Said It, Scavenger Hunt and Scorecards.

For 8 players. Tone: funny.

Print at actual size on US Letter or A4 paper. Black-and-white printing works. Keep the answer pages with the host. Bring pencils and leave a little room for friendly debate.

Before you play

A little preparation, a lot of family stories.

Family Trivia

Read each question aloud. Guests write their answers, alone or in teams. Award one point for each correct answer. Accept equivalent answers.

Who Said It

Read the clue and guess the guest who said it or did it. Award one point per correct guest. The host can give a hint.

Scavenger Hunt

Work in teams. Use only objects already nearby and shared stories. Each completed task earns one point. Skip anything unavailable or uncomfortable. No speed or physical ability required.

Scorecards

Write team names and total the three rounds. If teams tie, each shares a favorite memory. The table chooses the warmest story, or share the win.

Everyone may pass. Keep jokes kind. The host has the final say on answers.

Family Trivia

Write your answers. One point each. Keep the answer key with the host.

1. What did Rosa use instead of a baking tray for the cinnamon rolls?

2. Where did Dev drive by mistake?

3. Where did Maya hide the last pie?

4. What color is Ray's thermos?

5. What was Rosa baking?

6. What dessert went missing thanks to Maya?

7. What does Ray bring every year?

8. Whose drive became an airport detour?

Family Trivia: answer key

Host copy. Keep this page away from the teams.

1. A muffin tin.
2. The wrong airport.
3. In the garage.
4. Blue.
5. Cinnamon rolls.
6. The last pie.
7. A blue thermos.
8. Dev's.

Who Said It

Write your answers. One point each. Keep the answer key with the host.

1. Who gave cinnamon rolls a muffin-shaped makeover?

2. Who found an airport, just not the right one?

3. Who turned the garage into a pie pantry?

4. Who never arrives without a blue thermos?

5. Who had the last pie's hiding place memorized?

6. Who could tell us about the muffin tin experiment?

7. Who could use a second look at an airport map?

8. Who owns the annual thermos tradition?

Who Said It: answer key

Host copy. Keep this page away from the teams.

1. Rosa.
2. Dev.
3. Maya.
4. Ray.
5. Maya.
6. Rosa.
7. Dev.
8. Ray.

Scavenger Hunt

One point per task. Stay at the table or nearby. Anyone may pass.

- [] 1. Point to something blue nearby.
- [] 2. Name a dessert you would never hide in a garage.
- [] 3. Share a favorite kitchen memory.
- [] 4. Find a pencil for your team.
- [] 5. Name one thing you would pack for a long drive.
- [] 6. Point to a mug or cup already at the table.
- [] 7. Share a tradition you would like to keep.
- [] 8. Give your team a name inspired by a family story.

Scorecards

Make one copy per team. A shared win counts, too.

Team name: _____

Family Trivia: ____ / 8

Who Said It: ____ / 8

Scavenger Hunt: ____ / 8

Total: ____ / 24

The story we will still be telling next year:
